CORE FALSE BELIEF #5 · MY STRENGTH

“I am powerless.”

Where it often comes from

People often learn powerlessness in situations where they truly had no control: growing up with an abusive or addicted parent, being bullied, living through poverty or illness, or being trapped in a controlling relationship. The lesson “nothing I do makes a difference” can follow a person into adulthood, even after the situation has changed and real choices have returned.

What Scripture teaches

The Bible is honest that we are limited and cannot save ourselves. But it never leaves God’s people helpless. God gives power to the faint and strength to the weak. Paul said he could do all things through Christ who strengthens him. God has not given us a spirit of fear, but of power, love, and self-control. In Christ we are not powerless; we are dependent on a powerful God who works within us. Some things are outside our control, but we are never without God’s help or without some choice.

> “He gives power to the faint and increases the strength of the weak. Even youths grow tired and weary, and young men stumble and fall. But those who wait upon the LORD will renew their strength; they will mount up with wings like eagles; they will run and not grow weary, they will walk and not faint” (Isaiah 40:29–31).

Also see

> “I can do all things through Christ who gives me strength” (Philippians 4:13).

> “For God has not given us a spirit of fear, but of power, love, and self-control” (2 Timothy 1:7).

> “Now to Him who is able to do immeasurably more than all we ask or imagine, according to His power that is at work within us” (Ephesians 3:20).

> “Have I not commanded you to be strong and courageous? Do not be afraid; do not be discouraged, for the LORD your God is with you wherever you go” (Joshua 1:9).

Common self-statements

- Nothing I do makes a difference.
- Things just happen to me.
- I have no say in my own life.
- Other people control everything.
- I can’t change anything.
- Why bother trying?

Common logical errors

- Overgeneralization: Believing that because I was powerless once, I am powerless in everything.
- All-or-nothing thinking: Thinking that if I cannot control everything, I control nothing.
- Fortune telling: Predicting that my efforts will not matter before I try.
- Discounting the positive: Overlooking the choices I do make every day.

Challenging questions

- When did I first feel truly powerless, and is that situation still true today?
- What choices do I have right now, even small ones?
- What is in my control, and what is not?
- What does God say He gives to the weak?
- When have I made a difference, even in a small way?
- Who could help me with what I cannot do alone?

Truth summary

> There are things I cannot control, and there were times I truly had no power. But I am not powerless now. God gives strength to the weak, and in Christ I can take the steps in front of me. I have choices, and I have a God who works within me.

5 My practice plan

Everyone does the first four. Then pick one or two extra tools.

EVERYONE DOES THESE

- [ ] Make my Truth Card (below). Carry it and read it at least three times a day.
- [ ] Memorize my Scripture from Step 4.
- [ ] Listen to one song each day from "Songs that speak truth to this belief" on my card, and fill in my song journal (below).
- [ ] Set reminders to silently repeat my truth. Check one or more:
  - ☐ A buzz: my watch or phone vibrates every _____ minutes
  - ☐ An everyday event: every time I _____
  - ☐ A visual reminder: something I will see often, such as a sticky note on my mirror, my truth as the background picture on my phone, or a note on my car dashboard.

PICK ONE OR TWO THAT FIT ME

- [ ] Choices I made today: Each evening, list three choices you made today, however small, and note what difference each one made.
- [ ] My name in Scripture: Write a personal reminder based on my verse and read it aloud. Keep this application separate from the Bible quotation.

  For example, Isaiah 40:29–31 becomes: "Karen can write: "God gives power to the faint. When I am weak, I can wait on Him and find new strength.""
- [ ] Gratitude journal: Each night, write three things I thank God for.
- [ ] Truth recording: Record my own voice reading my Truth Card and verse, and listen in the car or on a walk.
- [ ] Reading: The "Strength" topic in Pearls.
- [ ] Listening: The Overcoming Depression audio by Dr. Brian Campbell. Tap to play.

6 My action step this week

Do one thing that tests the lie in real life.

Choose steps you can do safely. If this belief comes with hopelessness or thoughts of ending your life, call or text 988 (the Suicide & Crisis Lifeline), or call 911 in an emergency. You do not have to carry this alone.

- [ ] Sort what you can and cannot control. Draw two columns. List what worries you, then place each item under "In my control" or "Not in my control." Pray over the second; act on the first.
- [ ] Take one action. Pick one item in your control and take one small step on it this week.
- [ ] Use your voice once. State one honest preference or need to someone this week, such as where to eat or what you need.
- [ ] Get the right help. If someone is controlling or harming you, talk privately with a counselor, pastor, or trusted person about safe next steps.

CORE FALSE BELIEF #6 · MY STRENGTH

“I cannot handle this.”

Where it often comes from

This belief often appears when stress piles up: illness, caring for a loved one, money problems, grief, or several crises at once. It can also come from growing up without being allowed to face difficulties, or from being overwhelmed as a child with burdens too heavy for a child to carry. The body’s alarm system then fires quickly, and the thought “I can’t handle this” arrives before we have even tried.

What Scripture teaches

Scripture does not promise that life will be easy, but it does promise that God will not leave us to carry it alone. God is our refuge and strength, an ever-present help in trouble. He tells His people not to fear, because He will strengthen and uphold them. Paul described being hard pressed but not crushed. Jesus invites the weary to come to Him and find rest. You may not be able to handle this by yourself, but you are not by yourself.

> “Do not fear, for I am with you; do not be afraid, for I am your God. I will strengthen you; I will surely help you; I will uphold you with My right hand of righteousness” (Isaiah 41:10).

Also see

> “God is our refuge and strength, an ever-present help in times of trouble” (Psalm 46:1).

> “No temptation has seized you except what is common to man. And God is faithful; He will not let you be tempted beyond what you can bear. But when you are tempted, He will also provide an escape, so that you can stand up under it” (1 Corinthians 10:13).

> “We are hard pressed on all sides, but not crushed; perplexed, but not in despair; persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed” (2 Corinthians 4:8–9).

> “Come to Me, all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest. Take My yoke upon you and learn from Me; for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For My yoke is easy and My burden is light” (Matthew 11:28–30).

Common self-statements

- This is too much for me.
- I’m going to fall apart.
- I can’t cope with one more thing.
- Other people could handle this, but not me.
- I need to escape.
- If this goes on, I’ll break.

Common logical errors

- Catastrophizing: Imagining the worst possible outcome and assuming I will not survive it.
- Fortune telling: Predicting that I will fall apart before it happens.
- Emotional reasoning: Believing I can’t cope because I feel overwhelmed.
- Discounting the positive: Forgetting the hard things I have already gotten through.

Challenging questions

- What hard things have I already gotten through?
- What is the next small step, not the whole mountain?
- Am I trying to handle tomorrow's problems today?
- What does God promise to those who are overwhelmed?
- Who can help carry part of this load?
- What would I tell a friend in my situation?

Truth summary

> This is hard, and I feel overwhelmed. But I have gotten through hard things before, and God has promised to strengthen and uphold me. I don't have to handle everything at once. I can take the next step, ask for help, and lean on Him.

CORE FALSE BELIEF #7 · MY STRENGTH

“I cannot make it on my own.”

Where it often comes from

This belief can develop when a person was overprotected, never allowed to make decisions, or told they were incapable. It can also follow years of depending on a spouse, parent, or caregiver, or a loss that left someone suddenly alone. The belief is partly true, because we all need God and other people. It becomes harmful when it turns into fear of being alone, staying in unhealthy relationships, or giving up our own decisions.

What Scripture teaches

Scripture honors healthy dependence. Two are better than one, and God settles the lonely in families. Our ultimate dependence is on the Lord, who holds our right hand and helps us. But the Bible also calls each person to carry his own load and to grow in maturity. Needing God and others does not mean you are helpless. God has given you abilities, judgment, and His Spirit. You can lean on Him and on safe people while also taking responsibility for your own life.

> “For I am the LORD your God, who takes hold of your right hand and tells you: Do not fear, I will help you” (Isaiah 41:13).

Also see

> “I lift up my eyes to the hills. From where does my help come? My help comes from the LORD, the Maker of heaven and earth” (Psalm 121:1–2).

> “Two are better than one, because they have a good return for their labor. For if one falls down, his companion can lift him up; but pity the one who falls without another to help him up!” (Ecclesiastes 4:9–10).

> “Each one should test his own work. Then he will have reason to boast in himself alone, and not in someone else. For each one should carry his own load” (Galatians 6:4–5).

> “Not that we are competent in ourselves to claim that anything comes from us, but our competence comes from God” (2 Corinthians 3:5).

Common self-statements

- I need someone to take care of me.
- I can’t make decisions on my own.
- If I lose this person, I’ll fall apart.
- I’m not capable of running my life.
- I’ll put up with anything rather than be alone.
- Others know better than I do.

Common logical errors

- All-or-nothing thinking: Believing that if I need help with some things, I can’t do anything on my own.
- Fortune telling: Predicting that I will fail if I try to stand on my own.
- Discounting the positive: Overlooking the things I already do well by myself.
- Catastrophizing: Imagining that being alone would be unbearable.

Challenging questions

- What do I already do on my own, even if I don't notice it?
- Who taught me that I couldn't manage by myself?
- Is there a difference between needing help and being helpless?
- Am I staying in anything unhealthy because I fear being alone?
- What does God say about His help and my responsibility?
- What is one decision I can make myself this week?

Truth summary

> I need God, and I need people; that is how He made me. But needing help does not mean I am helpless. God holds my hand and has given me abilities and judgment. I can take responsibility for my life, make my own decisions, and still lean on Him and on safe people.
