SOCIOECONOMIC FALSE BELIEF #40 · LIFE-STAGE PRESSURES

“Needing help means losing my dignity.”

Where it often comes from

Many of us learned that independence is a mark of maturity and that asking for help is a loss of standing. Pride, family pride, or past experiences when help came with humiliation can feed this belief. It can keep people from using resources, seeing doctors, accepting meals, or asking for a loan or a ride when they truly need one.

What Scripture teaches

God made humanity a little lower than the heavenly beings and crowned us with glory and honor. That honor does not depend on how much we need. Jesus said, “It is not those who are well who need a physician, but those who are sick,” and Paul reminds us that it is more blessed to give than to receive, which means someone must receive. Proverbs says that with humility comes wisdom. Asking for help is a way to honor God’s design, in which we are made to need Him and each other.

> “Jesus answered, ‘It is not the healthy who need a doctor, but the sick.’” (Luke 5:31).

> “You made him a little lower than the angels; You crowned him with glory and honor” (Psalm 8:5).

> “In everything, I showed you that by this kind of hard work we must help the weak, remembering the words of the Lord Jesus Himself: ‘It is more blessed to give than to receive.’” (Acts 20:35).

> “When pride comes, disgrace follows, but with humility comes wisdom” (Proverbs 11:2).

> “Carry one another’s burdens, and in this way you will fulfill the law of Christ” (Galatians 6:2).

Common self-statements

- Real adults do not need help.
- If I ask, I am admitting defeat.
- People will lose respect for me.
- I would rather struggle alone than owe anyone.
- Taking help means I am weak.
- Needing anything is humiliating.

Common logical errors

- All-or-nothing thinking: Believing that I am either independent and dignified or needy and shamed.
- Mind reading: Assuming people will think less of me.
- Should statements: Insisting that I should never need help.
- Emotional reasoning: Feeling embarrassed and concluding that asking is wrong.

Challenging questions

- Where did I learn that asking for help is a loss?
- What would I think of a friend who asked me for help?
- When have I helped someone, and how did it feel?
- What does it cost me when I refuse help?

- What does God's crown of glory and honor say about my dignity?
- What is one small request I could make this week?

Truth summary

> My dignity comes from being made in God's image and crowned with glory and honor, not from how little I need. Asking for help is wise and humble, and it gives others the blessing of giving. I can receive help with gratitude and keep my dignity.

My Plan for Replacing "Needing help means losing my dignity"

✦ ✦ ✦

Read through each section and check the one that fits you best. If none of them fit, write your own. One choice per section is enough. A truth you choose for yourself will stick better than one handed to you.

Name: _____ Date started: _____

1 How strongly do I believe the lie?

Rate it now so you can see your progress later.

"Needing help means losing my dignity." I believe this _____ % (0 = not at all, 100 = completely)

2 My best question

The one question I will ask myself every time the lie shows up.

- ☐ Where did I learn that asking is shameful?
- ☐ What do I need right now?
- ☐ What would I say to a friend who asked me?
- ☐ What does asking cost me?
- ☐ What is one small request?
- ☐ How can I say thank you well?

My own question: _____

3 My replacement truth

The statement I will say to myself instead of the lie.

- ☐ My dignity comes from God.
- ☐ Asking for help is wise.
- ☐ Receiving lets others give.
- ☐ We were made to need each other.
- ☐ Humility brings wisdom.
- ☐ I can accept help and still be honored.

Practicing the Truth

5 My practice plan

Everyone does the first four. Then pick one or two extra tools.

EVERYONE DOES THESE

- ☐ Make my Truth Card (below). Carry it and read it at least three times a day.
- ☐ Memorize my Scripture from Step 4.
- ☐ Listen to one song each day from "Songs that speak truth to this belief" on my card, and fill in my song journal (below).
- ☐ Set reminders to silently repeat my truth. Check one or more:
  - ☐ A buzz: my watch or phone vibrates every _____ minutes
  - ☐ An everyday event: every time I _____
  - ☐ A visual reminder: something I will see often, such as a sticky note on my mirror, my truth as the background picture on my phone, or a note on my car dashboard.

PICK ONE OR TWO THAT FIT ME

- ☐ A request made: Each week, note one time you asked for or accepted help and how it went.
- ☐ My name in Scripture: Write a personal reminder based on my verse and read it aloud. Keep this application separate from the Bible quotation.

  For example, Psalm 8:5 becomes: "Sarah can write: "God crowned me with glory and honor, so I can ask for help without losing my dignity.""
- ☐ Gratitude journal: Each night, write three things I thank God for.
- ☐ Truth recording: Record my own voice reading my Truth Card and verse, and listen in the car or on a walk.
- ☐ Reading: The "Help" topic in Pearls.
- ☐ Listening: The Overcoming Depression audio by Dr. Brian Campbell. Tap to play.

6 My action step this week

Do one thing that tests the lie in real life.

This card is educational and is not financial or legal advice. Choose steps you can do safely. If you are without food, housing, or safety, contact your church, a trusted advisor, or local assistance services.

- ☐ Name your needs. Write what you need right now: practical, financial, emotional, or physical.
- ☐ Make one small request. Ask a friend, church, or professional for one specific thing.
- ☐ Say thank you. Respond to help with gratitude instead of apology.
- ☐ Help someone else. Notice how it feels to be asked, and remember it.

Father, You crowned me with honor. Free me from the belief that needing help takes it away. Give me humility to ask, gratitude to receive, and trust that You provide through people. Amen.
