“People get tired of repeating things for me.”

Where it often comes from

Asking “What?” again and again, or needing text or large print, can create guilt. Some nod along to avoid asking, and miss much. Others withdraw to avoid being a bother.

What Scripture teaches

“Carry one another’s burdens, and in this way you will fulfill the law of Christ.” “Everyone should be quick to listen, slow to speak.” Love is “patient” and “kind” (1 Corinthians 13:4). Most people would rather repeat themselves than see you left out. When someone is truly impatient, that reflects their limits, not your worth. You can help them by telling them what works for you: face me, speak clearly, write it down.

> “Carry one another’s burdens, and in this way you will fulfill the law of Christ” (Galatians 6:2).

Also see

> “My beloved brothers, understand this: Everyone should be quick to listen, slow to speak, and slow to anger” (James 1:19).

> “Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud” (1 Corinthians 13:4).

> “Two are better than one, because they have a good return for their labor. For if one falls down, his companion can lift him up; but pity the one who falls without another to help him up!” (Ecclesiastes 4:9–10).

> “Therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, clothe yourselves with hearts of compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness, and patience” (Colossians 3:12).

- I am annoying them.
- They are tired of me.
- I should stop asking.
- I am a burden to talk to.

Common logical errors

- All-or-nothing thinking: Believing people either hear me easily or are annoyed.
- Fortune telling: Predicting impatience.
- Emotional reasoning: Feeling like a bother and concluding that I am.
- Mind reading: Calling myself a burden.

Challenging questions

- What have people actually said or shown?
- What helps me understand: facing me, writing, quiet rooms?

- How could I tell people what helps?
- What do I miss when I pretend to hear?
- Who is patient with me?
- What does Scripture say about patience and burden-bearing?

Truth summary

> Asking for what I need is an act of respect for myself and others. Most people want to include me. I can tell them what helps, and I can be gracious with myself.

Practicing the Truth

5 My practice plan

Everyone does the first four. Then pick one or two extra tools.

EVERYONE DOES THESE

- [ ] Make my Truth Card (below). Carry it and read it at least three times a day.
- [ ] Memorize my Scripture from Step 4.
- [ ] Listen to one song each day from "Songs that speak truth to this belief" on my card, and fill in my song journal (below).
- [ ] Set reminders to silently repeat my truth. Check one or more:
  - ☐ A buzz: my watch or phone vibrates every _____ minutes
  - ☐ An everyday event: every time I _____
  - ☐ A visual reminder: something I will see often, such as a sticky note on my mirror, my truth as the background picture on my phone, or a note on my car dashboard.

PICK ONE OR TWO THAT FIT ME

- [ ] Asking well: Each week, note one time you asked for what you needed.
- [ ] My name in Scripture: Write a personal reminder based on my verse and read it aloud. Keep this application separate from the Bible quotation.

  For example, Galatians 6:2 becomes: "Sarah can write: "We carry one another's burdens.""
- [ ] Gratitude journal: Each night, write three things I thank God for.
- [ ] Truth recording: Record my own voice reading my Truth Card and verse, and listen in the car or on a walk.
- [ ] Reading: The "Friendship" topic in Pearls.
- [ ] Listening: The Overcoming Anxiety audio by Dr. Brian Campbell. Tap to play.

6 My action step this week

Do one thing that tests the lie in real life.

These cards support emotional and spiritual care and do not replace medical care. Follow your doctor's advice about treatment and medication, and choose steps that are safe for your body. In an emergency call 911; for thoughts of self-harm call or text 988 (U.S.).

- [ ] Prepare a sentence. Try, "It helps me if you face me and speak slowly."
- [ ] Choose better spots. Sit where you hear best.
- [ ] Use technology. Captioning, apps, or devices.
- [ ] Thank patient people. Tell them it matters.
